

Morgan Price Biography

Morgan Price is an artist, printmaker, and vintage clothing enthusiast working as an Assistant Professor of Art at Illinois State University. Originally from western Colorado he received his BFA from the University of Denver and his MFA from Wichita State University. Displaying work nationally and internationally through print exchanges, juried exhibitions, and invitational shows, his art utilizes humor, whimsy, and satire to explore an uneasy relationship with contemporary society. Morgan currently serves as the vice-president of the Mid-America Print Council.