Helping Elderly Parents
Are your parents in their golden years? Learning how to help parents or other loved ones through their transition can prepare you for your own. This compassionate and comprehensive class will give you the tools, techniques, and insights for this passage. Growing older is a part of life. Some aspects are joyful, some bittersweet, some frustrating, some frightening. You will learn what to expect, what to watch for, how to deal with physical and emotional challenges, and where to find resources to help. You’ll understand the impact of retirement, learn how to choose a nursing home, and be prepared to deal with death. You’ll learn about financial and legal considerations, health issues, and family interpersonal relationships. You’ll be introduced to special communication skills, observation methods, and coping mechanisms to ease the burden for everyone involved. You’ll learn to handle most of the challenges you will face while coming to appreciate and cherish the privilege of the journey.

Introduction to Self-Compassion
Self-compassion involves treating ourselves kindly, like we would a good friend we care about. Rather than continually judging and evaluating ourselves, self-compassion involves generating kindness toward ourselves as imperfect humans and learning to be present with the inevitable struggles of life with greater ease. It motivates us to make needed changes in our lives not because we’re worthless or inadequate, but because we care about ourselves and want to lessen our suffering.

Combing Honey

Combing honey is old-fashioned honey harvested in the bees' own wax case. A hundred years ago, honey was removed from the hive and eaten in the comb. Today, extracted honey—honey in the jar—is the norm. This course is an opportunity to return to the old (and some contend the healthiest) way of harvesting honey. Producing honey in the comb is a beekeeping challenge, an old-fashioned challenge explored in this class.

Fee: $25

Beekeeping Field Study

This short course will provide practical, hands-on instruction for installing, manipulating, and inspecting colonies of bees. If possible, the class will meet in a bee yard, so appropriate clothing and bee equipment will be necessary. If it is not possible to meet in the bee yard, class will be delivered via Zoom. Spring is the time to start with bees, and this course will walk you through it step by step. Learn what you need to know to start out right with your bees.

Private Wells: Don’t Be Dead in the Water

The majority of Geographic McHenry County is served by private wells. Most residences, commercial, and institutional operations served by wells give them little consideration until, for one or multiple reasons, a new or replacement one is needed. You’ll gain a better understanding of the evolution of well technology from pre and early settlement times through the present, including a comparison to modern municipal/public systems. There will also be discussion of the recent release of the current McHenry County Water Resource Action Plan (WRAP). This presents the question… Wells, wells everywhere, but will you be able to drink?

Small Engine Repair

Don’t pay to have your small engines fixed—learn how to do it on your own! In this hands-on course, you’ll gain the necessary skills to maintain and fix your personal landscaping equipment and/or snow clearing. Work with a skilled instructor and learn how to get back to mowing or snow blowing your property without having to buy new equipment. While background knowledge in engine operation and tool usage is beneficial, it’s not required to attend this course. Students are encouraged to bring in their own equipment to connect content to real life.

What’s On Your Wall? Art in Two Dimensions
“It appears we just got Banksy-ed.” An incident that shocked the art world and made instant history occurred when a work of art shredded itself. The auctioneer had just made the final blow of his hammer signifying that someone had won the bid on ‘Girl with Balloon’ by anonymous graffiti artist, Banksy, when the painting began beeping and then shredded half of itself in front of a room full of horrified people. This painting had just sold for $1.4 million. We’ll explore a world where giant murals and art alleys transform neighborhoods and cities, including the art of that Banksy fellow!

Rod Serling and The Twilight Zone
As you begin to read this, relax your mind. “You unlock this door with the key of imagination. Beyond it is another dimension: a dimension of sound, a dimension of sight, a dimension of mind. You’re moving into a land of both shadow and substance, of things and ideas. You’ve just crossed over into…The Twilight Zone.” These were the words of the famous narrator, Rod Serling as he took viewers into the well-known, psychological thriller television series, The Twilight Zone. Historian Jim Gibbons will discuss The Twilight Zone, the amazing works, and the life of genius creator, Rod Serling. You’ll hear about the many accomplishments and awards that he received over his lifetime for his screenwriting, television production, and narration, including being inducted into The Television Hall of Fame in 1985. He’ll also discuss the movies, writings, and other works of Serling; his military background; and his fight for change in issues of television censorship, politics, racism and more.

The Mississippi River: Ally and Enemy
The largest river in the United States, approximately 2,350 miles in length is the mighty Mississippi. It travels through or along ten states in all, from Minnesota in the north to Louisiana in the south. It also forms the backbone for shipping and commerce for the United States and world trade. Compared with the Nile, Amazon, and Yangtze, the Mississippi is ranked number four amongst the greatest rivers in the world. Millions of people depend on this river every day for their livelihood. Yet, within a matter of moments, this great friend and ally can turn from a river of strength and stability to a raging monster, wiping out any life and land within its path! Historian Jim Gibbons will present historical facts about the Mississippi River and its mighty influence on our everyday lives.

Chicago’s Mayor Richard J. Daley: The Man, His Times, and the City He Loved
Richard J. Daley was born in Bridgeport, on Chicago’s South Side. This was a working-class, Irish neighborhood where he lived his entire life. Later, he moved into politics eventually becoming the legendary Mayor of Chicago for 21 years and the Cook County Democratic Central Committee Chairman for 23 years. He held both positions until his death on December 20, 1976. Daley played a major role in Democratic politics supporting both John F. Kennedy in the 1960 Presidential Election and Hubert Humphrey in 1968. He also faced monumental challenges such as the decline of the major cities; the 1960's Civil Rights Movement; the 1968 rioting in the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.; the 1968 Democratic National Convention; and the Vietnam War protesters. Historian, Jim Gibbons, will present the life of the man referred to as “Hizzoner,” who was a man of vision, courage, and dreams for a great city. Through his legacy today, Chicago has an extensive expressway system; one of the world’s busiest airports, O’Hare International; a major convention center, McCormick Place; and legendary buildings such as the Hancock Center, Willis Tower (formerly The Sears Tower), and Marina City. Chicago, under his administration, was called “The City that Works!” To this day, people still remember, “You know this never would have happened when Richard J. Daley was alive! This class takes place at Clarendale of Algonquin, 2001 West Algonquin Rd., Algonquin.

Eleanor Roosevelt and Civil Rights Movement
As the First Lady of the United States, the head of the NAACP, and the first woman Ambassador to the United Nations to become the chair of the UN Human Rights Commission, Eleanor Roosevelt became one of the most admired women in American history! She was one of the most skilled, admired, and controversial politicians of the 20th Century, a major advocate against social injustice, and an unrelenting advocate for human rights. Though she never ran for public office, she wielded tremendous power by influencing those that governed, particularly her husband. In the 1930’s she joined the NAACP, and following her husband’s death, she became a member on the Board of Directors of the NAACP and the Congress of Racial Equality. She was an advocate for civil rights and a fervent supporter of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. Though extremely lady-like in manner, she was inflexible as steel when she stood up for the causes she believed in. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. called Mrs. Roosevelt, “perhaps the greatest woman of our time.” He praised, “the courage she displayed in taking sides on matters considered controversial,” and her “unswerving dedication to high principle and purpose.”

Crisis of Freedom: America, 1790–1815
Ten years after the Constitution was signed, the nation was so fractured that some feared civil war would soon break out. Those who had so recently fought Britain together, even the leaders, were at each other's throats. This course traces the United States’ first four administrations: the Cabinet battles under Washington; the politics around building Washington City; the federal government’s attack on political speech, the exploration of the West, and war with the British and the united Indian nations under Tecumseh.

Black Inventors Prove They are the Real McCoy

In celebration of Black History Month, this presentation will review the many contributions of Black inventors in the U.S. Prior to the Civil War, enslaved Blacks were banned from obtaining patents in their own name, but that didn’t stop these industrious men and women from inventing new products and services that continue to impact our life today. Thomas Jennings, a free Black man, was the first person to receive a patent for his dry cleaning methods in 1831. Once the color ban was lifted, Martha Jones became the first black woman to obtain a U.S. patent in 1868, for improvements she made to the Corn Husker. Elijah McCoy, a free Black born in Canada after the family escaped from slavery in Kentucky, returned to the U.S. after being educated as a mechanical engineer in Scotland. McCoy, who had a fascination for steam engines, returned ready, willing and able to create. He obtained his first patent in 1872 for the invention of an automatic lubricating system which oiled steam locomotives and ships. By the time he died in 1929, McCoy had secured 57 patents and was known and revered as a genius in the field. Following McCoy’s influence on the patent industry, patent officials were known to query new inventors, whether Black or White, if their invention was “the real McCoy.”

A History of the Electric Vehicle

You might be surprised to learn that Elon Musk and Tesla did not invent the electric car! More than one hundred years ago electric vehicles (EV) were the most popular automobiles in the world! In the late nineteenth century and at the start of the twentieth century, they outsold every other type of car including steam or internal combustion engine (ICE) powered vehicles. And yet, at the start of the twentieth century, thousands of battery-powered cars disappeared from the streets, replaced by the internal combustion engine, and their place in the history of the automobile was quietly erased. Join us as we explore the economic, political, and societal forces that caused electric vehicles to fail in the early 1900s as well as the recent comeback of the electric car and the current challenges that it faces.

Abraham Lincoln

The president speaks about the Civil War; its beginning; the misconceptions Northerners and Southerners had about each other; the crisis decisions those first 40 days; his trouble with generals; his purpose to preserve the Union and free elections and to place slavery on the road to extinction. President Lincoln speaks about his life: growing up in Kentucky and Indiana, attending a blab school. He reviews major election contests: Congressional race against evangelist Peter Cartwright when Cartwright asked if Lincoln were going to Heaven or Hell and Lincoln said, “I’m going to Congress;” and his debates with Stephen Douglas. The famed Lincoln humor is revealed as the president share stories about critics, office-seekers, lawyers, generals and Congressman. In conclusion the president says he is “but an accidental instrument, temporary, to serve for a short time.” He says it will be up to the American people to preserve the Union and its liberties to the latest generation.

1945–1948: The Greatest Generation Comes Home

Our soldiers were victorious in Europe and the Pacific. Then they came home by the tens of thousands and found a country different than the one they left. Rosie the Riveter and other women had a different perspective on their roles. There was not enough housing or cars or consumer goods. Unions wanted their members to achieve wage gains postponed by the war effort. Harry Truman had to respond to all of this, plus significant international challenges.

Color and Meaning in Renaissance Art: From Fresco Technique to Oil

Did colors have meaning? Unlock the role of color and technique used by artists in Renaissance painting 1300–1500. How did artists use color to communicate to an uneducated public? What pigments were available and how did age and restoration effect what we see today? Examine fresco technique used by early Renaissance artists such as Giotto and the innovation and revolution of oil painting with its effect on future artists.

America’s First Ladies—The Best, the Worst, and the Strangely Forgotten

Explore which First Ladies have ranked highest and lowest (or most in-between) with historians and why. Who do you think was best or worst? Why were some so vilified? And what might the future hold for the role of American First Lady?
The Civil War: An American Tragedy
Antebellum Years 1820–1860 Journey back to the years preceding the Civil War from the Missouri Compromise to John Burns capture of Harper's Ferry. Learn of the nine events that occurred during the antebellum years that led up to the greatest American tragedy with the greatest loss of lives in our country's history, and of the state of nations economic, political and military lack or preparedness resulting in this greatest tragedy of American history. Part 2 – The War Years 1861 - 1865 Experience the war's greatest and most tragic battles from Ft Sumter to Appomattox to include Bull Run, Shiloh, New Orleans, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Vicksburg and many others. Learn of Sherman's march to the ocean and Grant's overland battles. Experience the actual three day battle of Gettysburg with a bird's eye view and the sounds of cannon fire! Part 3 – The Post War Years 1866 – 1877 Learn of the turbulent years following the end of the Civil War and the efforts to reintegrate the Southern states, and the four million freed slaves into the country. Review the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments that were achieved as a result of the tragic loss of 750,000 American lives to include our 16th President. Review where we are now two hundred years from the beginning of the antebellum period.

The Life, Laughter, and Legacy of Robin Williams
Comedian and actor Robin Williams, touched most everyone. You might remember a greeting of Nanu-Nanu happily given by Mork from Ork, Peter Pan in Neverland, the magical city of Agrabah and the Genie, or maybe the charming, whimsical nanny, Mrs. Doubtfire. To many, Williams’ amazing talent was larger than life. Through his on-the-spot improvisational skills, genuine personality, and quick-witted humor, Williams captured the attention and hearts of many throughout the world. Historical Presenter, Michelle Gibbons, will take you into the life and mind of the comic genius, Robin Williams. She’ll discuss Williams’ famous works, movies, TV shows, and success; his personal struggles and achievements; as well as the impact he made on others during, and after his life. This class takes place at Clarendale of Algonquin, 2001 West Algonquin Rd., Algonquin.

19 Crimes: Criminals to Colonists
Nineteen crimes turned criminals into colonists. Rather than facing death, British rogues who were convicted of at least one of the crimes, were sentenced to be transported to Australia. This punishment by transportation began in 1783, and although some died at sea, many survived the journey. As pioneers in a frontier penal colony, they forged a new country and new lives, brick by brick. Their stories survive into the 21st Century with… 19 Crimes wine! The men and women on the wine labels are not those of fiction, they were flesh & blood, criminals & scholars. Our sessions will focus on “The Gang,” John Boyle O’Reilly, Michael Harrington, James Wilson, Cornelius Dwyer Kane, and James Kiely. You’ll also learn about Jane Castings, who was one of the women banished to Australia. We’ll explore their lives and their world, plus the 19 Crimes!

Profiles in Courage: Women Who Fought for Freedom
Following the abolition of slavery and the passage of the 13th, 14th, and 15th Amendments, Black men won the right to vote, however, women were denied that privilege. This prompted many women who had fought diligently to abolish slavery in the United States to take on yet another challenge, one that would give all women an equal voice through their power to vote. Women who played a significant role in the abolition of slavery and the suffrage movement included Harriet Tubman, Susan B. Anthony, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Sojourner Truth, Mary Richardson Jones, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, and Anna Murray-Douglass (first wife of Frederick Douglass). After more than a half century later, women won the right to vote in 1920, but in many ways this was a shallow victory for Blacks. Voter suppression, Jim Crow laws, Ku Klux Klan lynchings and other violent attacks prevented men and women of color from exercising their right to vote. Join us as Gloria shares information about the brave women who fought for freedom.

The Life of Walter Cronkite

Walter Cronkite made a name for himself in American Broadcast Journalism, often being called the "most trusted man in America." Cronkite received the most fame from his position as an anchorman for CBS News from 1962 to 1981. During that time, he covered some of America's most important historical events including the Nuremberg Trials, Watergate, the Iran hostage crisis, and the assassinations of Martin Luther King Jr., and John Lennon of The Beatles. Cronkite led audiences in the broadcast of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, breaking the news to a shocked nation. With a tear in his eye and with a slight struggle to not break his composure, Cronkite stated, “From Dallas, Texas, the flash apparently official, President Kennedy died at 1p.m. Central Standard Time, 2:00 Eastern Standard Time, some thirty-eight minutes ago.” Historian Jim Gibbons will explain how Cronkite was selected by the United States Army to fly as a member of the "Writing 69th" during World War II, how a man who never walked on the moon was recognized and awarded by NASA, and also how Cronkite set a standard for anchors years to come “And that’s the way it is.” This class takes place at Clarendale of Algonquin, 2001 West Algonquin Rd., Algonquin.

Graphic Design Software Essentials Certificate
The Adobe software tools are the leading software for graphic design. Adobe Illustrator is the industry standard computer illustration software. Use Illustrator to draw shapes and design logos, flyers, posters, banners, business cards, or any other vector graphics for print or web. Adobe InDesign is the industry standard page-layout program that works with Adobe Illustrator and Photoshop seamlessly. InDesign allows you to create simple or complex multi-page documents such as brochures, flyers, books, and magazines. Use Adobe Photoshop to effectively work with selection and editing tools, layers, and masks to edit, retouch, and enhance existing images or create your own composite digital artwork. Access to the Adobe software tools is required.
